

APRIL 2021 ORATORY NEWSLETTER

For the Friends & Benefactors of the Bournemouth Oratory
Parishioners of the Church of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, University Catholic Chaplaincy & Academy of the Annunciation.

Dear Friends,

OUR BISHOP'S LETTER TO EVERYONE forms the centre page spread of this month's Newsletter. It's a great initiative, which needs widely circulating, Please give copies to all your friends and neighbours. It's an opportunity to show what Catholics, the Catholic Church, and our local Parish, is really about, and to engage religious and non-religious people alike. Single copies are available to download from our website.

LOCK-DOWN LIFTING and the RESURRECTION will lift our spirits this Eastertide. On 12th April, 17th May, and 21st June the Government aims to gradually lift various restrictions. Let us pray that Parish life may soon be restored, and our Church open again from dawn to dusk.

If you've been isolating, or have been understandably anxious, or have just become accustomed to not going out, or not coming to Mass, we need to realise that viewing live-stream Masses is okay as second best, but is nowhere near like actually being present at Holy Mass. Our Bishop has been encouraging, and we now urge, return to the Sacraments and to normal Catholic life. It is too easy to fall into lax ways or laziness. Let's encourage each other be "at the Lord's own Service, on the Lord's own Day, with the Lord's own People".

Please let us know of parishioners who genuinely can't get out, and need Confession and Holy Communion at home, or who would appreciate a pastoral visit - when we should soon be permitted to do such things again.

PARISH SURVEY Planning for the future use of our redeveloped halls.

A lot has changed over the last 12 months. Looking ahead to when the pandemic is over, we anticipate that redeveloping our halls will play an essential role in parish and local community life. We would like your help in shaping the future use of the redeveloped halls for the benefit of the parish and wider community. Please help us and have your say by completing this anonymous short survey. CLICK HERE to access the on-line version of the survey. Alternatively, printed copies are available on request from the back of the Church, or by contacting the Parish Office.

THE ORATORY CHOSEN AS A SHRINE CHURCH during the coming Diocesan Year of the Eucharist. In addition to our Cathedral in Portsmouth, Bishop Philip has chosen the Oratory, and the Catholic Church in Reading (in the north and south of the diocese), to be Shrine Churches from the Feast of Corpus Christi at the beginning of June. We are to be a hub of Eucharistic Adoration, with a programme of devotions, teachings, displays and publications. Diocesan Parishes and individuals will be coming on pilgrimage to our Shrine Church. We thank Bishop Philip for the confidence which he thereby places in the Oratory and Sacred Heart Parish. Give us your ideas and aspirations. Details will be published in the May edition of this Monthly Newsletter.

THE ORATORY SHOP reopen from 12th April when all retail resumes. We have cards for all occasions, books, rosaries, statues, devotional items, and everything distinctly Catholic. Weekday morning access is via the Parish Office in Post Office Road, and Sundays we are open after the 10.30am Solemn Mass.

Letter to Everyone

who lives within the Diocese of Portsmouth from Bishop Philip Egan on Easter Sunday 4th April 2021.

AN OFFER THAT WILL CHANGE YOUR LIFE

Dear All,

My name is Philip Egan, and I am writing to you as the Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Portsmouth. A bishop is an ‘overseer’ appointed by the Pope. Originally, I come from Altrincham in Cheshire and until 2012 I was a parish priest near Stockport. Our Diocese covers a large swathe of southern England from Oxford and Windsor down to the South Coast and the Channel Islands. Over 3 million people live in our area. About 200,000 (7%) are Catholics. We have 90 parishes, 70 schools and 35 religious communities. Today, I am writing to you, and to everyone who lives within this area, every child, woman and man, whether you consider yourself to be a person of religious faith or not. This Easter, I want, on behalf of the Catholic community, to send you my warmest greetings and to extend to you a hand of respect, friendship and service.

This last year has been extraordinary, and I wish to share with you some of the things on my mind. The COVID pandemic has caused great harm and disruption, physical, mental, emotional and financial. Sadly, many have fallen sick; some have lost their lives. Yet we have also witnessed amazing generosity and self-sacrifice. I think here of all the medical staff, carers and key workers. The pandemic has had a big impact on the Church. There was a period when our churches - unjustly in my view - had to be closed. But many of our parishes and schools responded creatively to the challenge. Our hospital chaplains bravely supported the medical staff, and continued caring for the sick and dying. Priests and parishioners did all they could to keep in touch with the housebound by email, Zoom and phone. Our schools reached out to the neediest families with food-parcels, and Caritas, our charitable organisation, adapted its activities, feeding the homeless and caring for the mentally ill.

As Christians, we have been praying for a speedy resolution to this pandemic. Thanks to the ingenuity with which God has gifted scientists and others, there are now some positive signs, not least the vaccination programme. The fact that the vaccines are being given first to the most vulnerable reveals that society knows in its heart that the beauty and dignity of every human life is inviolable. The Catholic Church proclaims this to be true of every person from the moment of their conception to the awesome moment of their natural death: an unborn child in the womb, a new-born baby, an infant, a teenager and young adult, a grown up and a senior. Every person, regardless of their sex, colour, race or creed, regardless of their health, sexuality or wealth, regardless of their faults or failings, is of infinite value. Every person is a gift enriching the community, “holy ground” that we enter upon only with the utmost reverence.

I’m sure that, like me, your life has changed over these last months in its pace and routine, in the way you work and the way you spend your time. I have often felt isolated from the ones I love and learnt afresh how important to me loved ones truly are. The pandemic has exposed the fragility of modern life. It has also exposed its inequalities, unfairness and wastefulness. Many have been reviewing their priorities and asking questions about what is really valuable, about family, love and happiness, about life, death and the role of religion. Interestingly, thousands have been tuning into online religious services, and the word “prayer” as an internet search has surged. But the big question now is: What sort of post-COVID world do we want to inhabit?

We are at a turning-point. We have a God-given opportunity to rebuild a better world, in which truly human values are to the fore: care for the young, for the sick, and the poor, care for nature, care for a more just society. People have said that during the crisis the voice of the Church has been unhelpfully silent. Well, let me give a lead! I hereby call on all our politicians and policy-makers to listen to these aspirations, especially to the cry of the poor and those on the margins. And to each of you reading, don't let these aspirations be swallowed up in grand ideological plans, but concentrate on changing things yourself at home, at work, amongst your friends and on your street.

Why am I writing to you? I said I wanted, as a bishop and a fellow human being, to extend a hand of friendship and service. In fact, I want to make you an offer. For every human being wants to be happy, wants to be loved, wants to give love, wants to belong, wants to live forever. I believe that none of this is possible ultimately without a relationship with God. True, people ask: If God is so good, why does He allow bad things to happen? And why is religion often abused, leading to violence? Yet at its purest, faith in Jesus Christ responds to the human person's deepest longings. It gives immortality, tranquillity of spirit, an assurance of things hoped for. It gives friendship and a sense of belonging. It gives the strength to do the impossible, to bear sickness, suffering, sadness, death. It gives meaning and purpose. It grounds ethics. It builds community, encouraging self-sacrifice and service of the poor. It offers the glue that fosters social cohesion. Our British society has been moulded over many centuries by these beliefs, yet today they are much eroded; in fact, they are vanishing. No wonder we worry about the world our children will live in.

My offer of help is this. We need to ponder the sort of post-COVID world we wish for. We need to reflect too that one day we will die: what happens then to all my work and efforts? We need to think about values and our friendship with God. We need to get right the spiritual dimension of life if we are to tackle the practical. This is why I'd like to invite you to meet the clergy and people of the Church near you. They can help you to pray, meet God and develop a personal friendship with Him. You will hear from them the Good News of Jesus Christ and what it means. In this way, you can find the Way that leads to that true, lasting human happiness and fulfilment for which we all long. Here's a suggestion: why not try our website www.portsmouthdiocese.org.uk or email me on bishopphilipegan@portsmouthdiocese.org.uk ?

Peace be with you! I wish you a Happy Easter!

Thank you for your attention - and please be assured of my prayers.

In Corde Iesu,

+ Philip

Bishop of Portsmouth
