THE CORONA VIRUS is causing concern to many Parishioners (especially now that cases are confirmed here in the UK) and particularly about the Sign of Peace, and Receiving from the Chalice.

Following last weekend's invitation to voice your concerns, there is widespread encouragement to stop provision of the Chalice at Sunday Masses (as was inherited on weekdays), and to advise people against shaking hands at the Sign of Peace (and at greetings after Mass). As announced last weekend, the Sign of Peace (which in any case is only optional) can comprise a simple bow, as is the norm in some countries.

Our Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion observe that less than a third of Communicants receive from the Chalice anyway - some for theological reasons, others for hygiene. Some people say that they never returned to receiving the Precious Blood after the last virus, and others have stopped, or are now choosing not to receive from the Chalice.

While the Second Vatican Council proposes that 'the sign is more complete' by receiving both the Sacred Host and the Precious Blood, nevertheless we do not 'get more Jesus' by receiving both Kinds, and the Church has always taught that 'Christ is received whole and entire under either Kind alike'.

THIS SUNDAY IS SEPTUAGESIMA - the traditional start of the three week preparation for Ash Wednesday and the Season of Lent. See the February Newsletter for what's on at the Oratory during Lent, and decide NOW what we're giving up, or taking on, to come closer to God, develop our prayer, and grow in holiness of life.
